PLANS COMPLETE FOR STEEL STRIKE MONDAY

EMPLOYERS SHOW NO INDICATION OF WEAKENING; MEN WILL QUIT WORK

Industrial Struggle Will be One of Most Momentous in History Nation.

SOME MILLS TO CLOSE DOWN VOLUNTARILY

Others Will Keep Fight to a Finish. Police Reserves Increased.

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has informed strike leaders that President Wilson, acting through emissaries, was still exerting every effort to avert the steel strike by arranging a conference between Judge Gary, head of the steel corporation, and the strikers. There has been a constant exchange of messages between the President and Gompers since Thursday night.

POLICE FORCE INCREASED

(International News Service.)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—Arrival here this morning of a detail of fifty mounted members of the state constabulary, the swearing in as deputies and special policemen of several thousand persons in various steel towns of the district and posting of proclamations by the authorities warning against violence, gave evidence today of the near approach of the great conflict in the steel industry.

(International News Service.)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—With the nation wide strike of organized steel workers and members of the allied trades connected with the steel industry set for midnight Sunday night, the employers and American Federation of Labor leaders were today making their final plans for the great industrial struggle.

Some of the subsidiaries of the U. S. Steel corporation have adopted the policy of giving their employees the opportunity to hold meetings to consider their attitude towards the strike. The first meeting was held this morning when the plants of the Allegheny Steel Co. and West Penn Steel company suspended operations so that 6,000 workmen could "talk it over." With the closing order, President Harry F. Sheldon, of the Allegheny Steel company, issued a statement declaring that the company is opposed to the closed shop principle of the American Federation of Labor and that sympathetic strikes are the cause of undue hardships to the satisfied employees and their families.

Local employees of the National Tube Works in McKeesport went to work today wearing large buttons bearing the words "Loyal: I will not strike."

TO OPERATE MILLS

(International News Service.)
CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Mill owners in the south Chicago district are today making preparations to operate despite the strike of steel workers set for Monday morning and if enough employees respond to the call already sent out there will be a determined effort made to maintain the output of the plants. This became known today after Police Chief Garrity visited the steel districts to complete final arrangements for the disposition of the police reserves, which will be sent into the district Monday morning. The decision of the mill owners to keep their plants in operation was preceded by the request of the Illinois Steel Co. that all employees who desire to continue their work report at the plant Monday morning. It was at first announced that no effort would be made to have the men work as strike breakers but the company merely wished to keep "loyal" employees on the payroll. Then came the announcement of Chief Garrity.

ATLANTA, Sept. 20.—Following the action of the city council last night the city of Atlanta today sent $2,500 to the storm sufferers at Corpus Christi.

NEW ERA LEADER URGES USE OF PRINTER'S INK BY CHURCH

Dr. Barclay Acheson, of New York, who is the field secretary of the New Era Movement for the U. S. A. Presbyterian church, just at the close of the Era conference held at the Westminster church and before taking his train for the north, by request, dictated the following self-explanatory statement to his stenographer, for local publication:

The New Era movement has seven functional departments. One of these is the department of publicity. This department was created by the General Assembly for the purpose of interpreting and making known the methods and work of the Presbyterian church.

The work of this department naturally falls into two divisions—the first one being the publication of the New Era Magazine. This is a magazine of over 100,000 circulation, devoted to the work of the movement.

The other phase of the work is the sending of news stories to the newspapers. The news agencies show a remarkable willingness to publish religious news when it is provided in good form. It is literally true that miles of copy are being constantly collected by our clipping bureaus.

The two men in charge of the work are Mr. Wooten, editor of the magazine, and Mr. Clark, who is largely responsible for the copy that is sent to various newspapers. Both of these men are practical newspaper men and devoted Christians.

During a recent tour of the country practically every large newspaper sent a special representative to interview the New Era representatives. Scores of newspapers have used the telegraphic messages sent by President Wilson and other men of national prominence to the Geneva conferences. There are literally thousands of interesting news items that are being published daily through the work of this agency, and we must recognize the fact that live material in good form is being constantly used by the largest newspapers of the country.

In addition to the above, we recommend the purchase of advertising space—as one of our men said recently,—"not for the purpose of advertising our service or our men, but for the purpose of advertising the service rendered by the church to the community and nation." Our publicity department is providing copy for this use where desired.

While all of this may be of particular interest, it should be borne in mind that the New Era Magazine of over 100,000 circulation and all this other work carried on under the instruction of the General Assembly, is but a one-seventh of the total producing organization of the New Era Movement.

PRESTWOOD'S BILL GRANTS NORTHERN TIER OF COUNTIES MORE LAWMAKERS

Measure Bases the Representation on Present White Population.

WOULD PROVIDE FOR REDISTRICTING STATE

Act Intended to Break Up the Cliques, Senator Declares to Solons.

Jefferson county will gain three representatives in the state legislature if a bill introduced in the senate by Prestwood and in the house by Parker, is passed. The measure cuts down the representation of the southern tier of counties, the new representation being based on the white population of the state in the northern tier of counties, which now have a minority in the legislature.

Under Senator Prestwood's bill, the Southern counties would have a total representation of 36, based on population of 261,000 whites and 466,612 negroes. They would be represented as follows:

Montgomery 4, Mobile 4, Dallas 3, Barbour, Chambers, Clarke, Lee, Lowndes, Marengo, Perry, Pike and Wilcox 2 each; Bullock, Butler, Elmore, Hale, Henry, Russell and Sumner, 1 each. These counties now have a total representation of 42 in the house.

Morgan and the other counties of similar size will still have only two representatives each, the increase in the total representation for the northern tier coming from Jefferson with its ten solons in the house. The other counties included in the northern group are: Calhoun, Etowah, Jackson, Lauderdale, Madison, Morgan, Talladega, Tallapoosa, Tuscaloosa, and Walker, would retain as at present, 2 representatives. They would have a total of 30 representatives.

The Prestwood bill provides for the redistricting of the state for senatorial representation. Senator Prestwood, urging the passage of his measure, says:

"Trades, cliques and combinations of one section of senators against another will be broken up," he said today. "The criticism of the legislature that it represents just one section of the state, which has caused friction of many years, ill feeling and bad legislation, will be broken up by redistricting the state according to population as the population increases every 10 years. The present districts both in the house and senate are based on the population of the state decades ago and is not representative of the people of Alabama today."

Albany Council Meet Postponed

The meeting of the Albany city council, scheduled to have been held yesterday afternoon to pass paving ordinances now before the aldermanic body, was postponed on account of the death of Miss Audrey Matthews, a niece of Alderman Sivilly.

Cost of Living Does'nt Worry John Burrough

COST OF DYING INTERESTS HIM MUCH MORE.

(International News Service.)
PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Sept. 20.—It isn't the high cost of living that worries John Burroughs, the naturalist, so much as it is the high cost of dying. Mr. Burroughs, who is eighty-one, passed through here recently with the Ford-Eaton camping party.

"Yes, living is high," said the ancient Californian, "but so is dying. It's almost too expensive to die these days. I remember when a coffin could be bought for $10, now they're $100 and more often higher."

"There's a coffin trust in this country, and if I had Henry Ford's millions I'd break it, believe me."

WRECKING CREW AT SCENE OF DISASTER; MANY LIVES LOST

Key West, Sept. 20.—A wrecking crew is today at the scene of the reported wreck of the Spanish ship Valanera investigating the report brought to Key West late yesterday that she had sunk with 450 souls aboard. The naval station here is using every facility possible to ascertain whether the crew of 150 and the 300 passengers have been lost.

The Valanera had not been heard of since the tropical hurricane which swept this section last Sunday, and it is believed she was caught in the gale then and sent to the bottom. She was bound from Spain to New Orleans and was due to touch at Havana.

LOCALS TAKE FIRST GAME FROM STARS BY SCORE OF 7 TO 4

When Marston's injury to a finger forced his retirement from the game, the Birmingham All-Star team availed yesterday and the locals had little trouble trimming the visiting satellites by a score of 7 to 4. Up to the seventh Lewis and Henderson had engaged in a pretty pitcher's battle but in that stanza the locals batted around and Steadman hit twice.

With the score standing 2 to 1 against them, Steadman opened the local's half of the seventh by hitting to Nelson who muffed the ball and "Bull" was safe. With Lewis up, one of Henderson's curves caught Marston on the finger and he was out, Elder going behind the bat and Wells, a local boy, to right. Lewis hit to Levy who fumbled and both were safe.

Roberts flew out to center, but Halbrooks cracked a hit to left and Steadman counted, Lewis going to third from where he scored on the squeeze with McDuff at bat. Mitwede singled to right, Halbrooks scoring and McDuff going to third. N. Baker tripled to deep right and McDuff and Mitwede scored. With E. Baker up, N. Baker started to steal home and made it when Elder let a short passed ball get by him. E. Baker struck out. Russell walked, but Steadman, up for the second time, struck out. The game was safely on ice then and Lewis eased up. The visitors counted twice in the eighth after two were gone on Nelson's double, Rieves single and N. Baker's error.

Mitwede and Rieves were the hitting stars of the day, each getting three safeties out of four attempts. Roberts gave Henderson, the erstwhile Jasper no-hit wonder a warm greeting by hammering his first offering to left for two sacks. McDuff scored him with a triple to right, but was called out at third for failing to touch second.

McDuff also had a busy day in the field. He had five put outs to his credit and two assists, many of them difficult chances. The teams will play a double header here today.

PRESIDENT SPENDS VERY QUIET DAY AT LOS ANGELES; BIG SAN DIEGO TRIUMPH

Mr. Wilson Spoke to Forty Thousand Persons Last Night at Stadium.

AGAIN SAYS U. S. VOTE IS EQUAL TO BRITAIN'S

Gave Cuba and Panama Representation and Canada and Others Followed.

GAGE SAYS MCKINLEY WOULD SUPPORT LEAGUE

(International News Service.)
SAN DIEGO, Sept. 20.—"If Wm. McKinley were alive today I feel convinced that he would say 'God bless you Woodrow Wilson.'" This statement from Lyman A. Gage, former member of President Wilson's cabinet and one of the best known republicans in the U. S., was the outstanding feature of the dinner given in honor of the president here last night. Mr. Gage stated that McKinley's actions along philanthropic lines to the smaller and weaker nations were always in accordance with those being shown by President Wilson. Mr. Gage stated that he believed that if President McKinley was alive today he would stand with President Wilson in his fight for the ratification of the league of nations.

(International News Service.) LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—President Wilson and his party reached Los Angeles today with the president still amazed and delighted with his experiences in San Diego last night.

The president had taken part in what was up to the present the most unique affair of his life. He had been enabled to hold the attention of the majority of an audience numbering 40,000 people for more than an hour and to carry to them the message that he had brought west with him in such a manner that every single individual in the great stadium not only heard but comprehended.

The president was to have a reasonable rest period here. Although the original schedule called for only a stay here from 11 to 7 o'clock Sunday, it was extended through the early morning hours of Saturday because of the original plan to have the party remain overnight at a beach hotel at San Diego was found to be impracticable. The president's program for today is far from being a tiring one. His only public function is this evening, when he is to deliver a set address. In the meantime he was devoting considerable time simply to resting in his hotel suite.

In his address at San Diego last night the president emphasized his oft-repeated declaration that the single vote of the U. S. in the league council offsets the six votes of Great Britain and her colonies.

"I am perfectly content to have one vote," said the president, "when the one counts for six exactly as six counts for six. That is the arrangement under the league. We advocated giving a vote in the assembly to Cuba and Panama, both virtually under the protectorate of the U. S. When we gave these votes to the two nations how could we deny a similar vote to the great Dominion of Canada, to that great country—South Africa—or to Australia, which had led the world in so many reforms."

REMAINS ON SLEEPER

(International News Service.)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—A mix-up in arrangements caused some real disappointment to a crowd of Los Angeles residents when the president's special train rolled into the Santa Fe station here today. However, he slept late and did not go at once to the hotel, but remained in seclusion on the private car "Mayflower" for a time.

ITALIAN WARSHIPS JOIN THE REBELS AT FIUME, CLAIMED

(International News Service.)
GENEVA, Sept. 20.—Capt. Gabriel d'Annunzio, the soldier-poet who has occupied Fiume with Italian forces, declared in an interview to the Fiume correspondent of a Rome newspaper that the Italian warships in the Fiume harbor have gone over to his leadership, according to advices received here today. Claiming that he has enough troops to dominate the situation at Fiume, d'Annunzio is threatening to "fight to the death," if any attempt is made to drive him out.

GERMANY ACCEPTS ALLIED DEMANDS

(International News Service.)
LONDON, Sept. 20.—Germany has sent a formal note to the allies agreeing to comply with the allied demands for the annulment of Article 61 of the German constitution, which provides for Austrian representation in the German Reichsrath, said a news agency dispatch from Berlin today.

Limestone Fair to Be Big Event

The Limestone county fair, September 23 to 26, promises to be the best in the history of the fair association, reports received from Athens declare. The fair exhibits this year will be unusually varied and of a high order of excellence. Well known trotters and pacers have been entered in the track events and thousands of visitors will be attracted from all over North Alabama.

Substitute For Lynne Act Passed

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 20. (Special)—The house yesterday passed a substitute for the Lynne cold storage bill. The new measure regulates the storage of food products and requires that the date delivered to the storage company must be stamped on each article and sets a time limit that they may remain in storage.

Attended the Baptist Madison County Assn.

Mesdames W. H. Simpson, H. S. Roberts, C. E. Malone and Dr. W. P. Wilks, attended the meeting of the Baptist Madison County association held at Galilee church, near New Hope. Mrs. Simpson represented the W. M. U. and Dr. Wilks addressed the men on the $75,000,000 campaign. The trip was made on Thursday.

NEW CAMPAIGN SONG AT CENTRAL BAPTIST ON SUNDAY EVENING

One of the features of the great Baptist campaign now being organized is to be the singing of the Campaign Song recently written by Prof. I. E. Reynolds, of the Southwestern Baptist Seminary. This new song is to be heard for the first time in Albany at Central Baptist church at the evening service tomorrow. All are invited. The meeting begins at 8 o'clock.

WILL ALABAMA HAVE ANOTHER FLOURISHING CITY?

(Birmingham Ledger.)
The general assembly has passed the bill authorizing Albany and Decatur to consolidate if the people at an election to be held so decide. The proposition to unite their fortunes is a good one on the part of each city, and it is essentially in line with democracy that they should settle that matter at the ballot box.

The rest of Alabama looks on with interest, and hopes the citizens of these two flourishing communities will come together and present Alabama with another real city.

AMERICA'S FAILURE TO PROTECT ITS HEROES

That America has fallen down flat in its obligations to its wounded and disabled heroes of the world war is a fact already known to the nation. In every community there are glaring instances of this neglect of duty, for men who gave their all in the defense of country are being allowed to eke out a miserable existence, or are being supported largely through the charity of relatives or friends. Common justice demands that the man who became a target for German bullets should be given vocational training that will equip him anew for the battle with life, or should receive compensation somewhat in line with the amount he was able to earn prior to his enlistment in the service.

The American Legion Weekly, the official organ of the American Legion, is taking up the cudgels in behalf of these neglected veterans, and has undertaken to build a fire under the Federal Board for Vocational Education, which it holds responsible for the narrow construction that has been placed upon certain relief acts passed by congress. In its current issue, the Legion Weekly says:

Up to June 28, the Board, with its 1,635 salaried employees, has placed in training only 3,923 of the 230,000 American disabled during the war. It is not to be expected, of course, that the Board will ultimately have to provide training for all of these 230,000 disabled veterans. On June 21 only eleven men, on graduation from their training, had been situated in gainful occupation by the Board. On July 11, the amended act, with the principal defects of the old law eliminated, became effective. Since that time the Board has been able to show an appreciable increase in men actually started in training, but only a gain of twenty-two for trained men at work. On August 2, the number in training was 5,512 and the number graduated and at work had risen to sixteen. Washington office figures of September 4 gave the number in training as 6,599, and trained men in jobs, thirty-three. Disabled men placed in employment, with no training or incomplete training, numbered 16,410.

Inquiry revealed, however, that of this number 12,820 were "self-placed," which is an euphuistic manner of saying they went out and got their own jobs.

While these figures tell their own story, the policies of the Board under which these results were obtained are more eloquent indications of the Board's failure to provide adequately for the nation's disabled. From the policy pursued under the old law, which was one of generous promises and scant performance, under the new law the Board proceeds on a program of scant promises and scant performance. In many instances it has placed so narrow a construction on the law as to indicate a conscious effort to diminish the number of disabled men to whom it shall be obliged to give training and subsequent employment. Wages of crippled men are confiscated. Only the "major handicaps," embracing the totally disabled, the blind and the seriously maimed are considered at present. The others are told to find work, with the oily promise that their cases will receive attention in "due course." It appears to be a Hasty effort to build up a more impressive total of needy men benefitted.

In consequence, thousands of wounded men are abroad, some of them in the land, abandoned by the government they served. They stand on the threshold of a cheerless future, often the prey of actual want, always of the bitter reflections of promises unredeemed and hopes deferred. In every large city you may find them. They frequent the Red Cross and other charitable soldiers' aid societies. They want food, shelter or money, and a chance to earn them by some light labor they can negotiate under the handicap of their infirmity.

It is a crying shame and disgrace that every promise made to the mutilated heroes of the world war has not been kept. And the fault does not lie with the American people, for there is not one of them who does not feel that the debt of gratitude which we owe those who went to the front is overwhelming and of first importance. The mistakes of the Civil War should not be repeated, for it is a matter of record and history that the pension roll grew in proportion with the passing of time and in obedience to the law of politics, so that relatives of veterans were largely the beneficiaries, and not the men who bared their bodies to the storm of bullets. It would be far more humane and far more practical to train the wounded for useful employment than to shower their widows and orphans with benefices to which they are not entitled.

WHY THEY LEAVE SHEFFIELD

Under the foregoing caption, the Tri-Cities Daily at Sheffield prints a communication from M. Marks, Inc., a business firm that is leaving that city for keeps, and that is frank enough to tell the reason why. The letter is pertinent everywhere that landlords become profiteers and that rentals for business property are higher than conditions and population warrant.

The communication follows:
Editor The Tri-Cities Daily:

As several of my friends have asked me to set down the reasons why the M. Marks Company, Inc., have quit business and removed their stock from Sheffield, I am sending you this statement of the facts in that connection, as well as my impressions of the people and business prospects of the community.

In the first place let me say that I like Sheffield and its people as well as any place I have ever done business in, but friendship is not sufficient to keep business houses alive—they must have trade in sufficient volume to cover current expenses and make a reasonable profit on the investment. And around this fact hinges the reason why the M. Marks Company, Inc., have left Sheffield.

Regarding the conditions existing here and under which business must be done, let me say that it is my opinion that no business house can exist at the present rental rates and the other exorbitant charges for light, license, water, etc. The rents are out of all proportion with the possibilities of trade volume, the city license too high, light and water rates are well I know of no place in the country where they are as high as here, all of which, with added excessive labor costs, makes a combination of conditions that will eventually force the majority of business men to do as I have—move out or they will have to face failure.

So much has been said lately about profiteering. Why, it is the landlords, not the merchants here, who are profiteering.

Business houses that should actually rent for from $90 to $100 are rented at from $100 to $400 per month. Dwelling houses worth in reality from $7.00 to $15.00 are held at from $85 to $50. Is this profiteering? If you don't think so, refer to your assessment roll and see what valuation is placed on some of the property bringing bonanza rentals in Sheffield. In fact, rents in Sheffield are higher in proportion than in New York or any other city in the country. And let me add that relief must be given if Montgomery avenue is to remain a business center, for as I have already said, no merchant can stand this enormous rental expense and make any profit.

Referring to the case of M. Marks, Inc., the rent for the store we occupied at the corner of Second and Montgomery was $400 per month. During the rush at the plants, we could afford to pay this rate, owing to the large volume of business, but we could not continue to do so under the changed conditions of the present. Our lease runs until January 1, 1920, so in May I took the matter of a reduction in rental rate up with the agent who handles the property. He informed me that he would let me know what the owner would do—later. That was in May—after we had decided to leave, which was months later, he came to see me, but as my business here was losing a large amount each month and it was necessary to buy fall and winter stock, I told him I would pay the lease to its termination, but was leaving. Had he given me any prospect of relief, I should not have left, as I like Sheffield and would have been glad to remain and help build it into a real city.

Let me say in conclusion that no city can prosper where landlords hold rentals up at the figure they do here, and if it is continued the result must be vacant stores in abundance. Cities are built on the business of such concerns as the M. Marks, Inc., a concern with a real rating, progressive, square dealing and with a standing that cannot be questioned, and when conditions exist that drive such concerns away, harm only can come to the community. This is a matter for the citizens of Sheffield, to consider carefully; for I have sent this communication, not in the spirit of antagonism, but rather with the hope that the presentation of these facts will remedy an evil in your business life that threatens it with destruction.

LEGIONNAIRES OPEN DRIVE

By WILLIAM H. HENDRIX
(Birmingham News.)

Fighting men of Alabama are on the war path again.

This time the trail does not run to Chateau-Thierry or Verdun, but through the streets and highways of Alabama. The objective this time, instead of enemy machine gun nests, is the peaceful acquisition of Alabama's quota in the great American Legion membership drive now on all over the United States which has for its purpose the enrollment of 1,000,000 members before the meeting of the national convention at Minneapolis in November.

Matt H. Murphy, state commander, issued a ringing declaration Saturday night in which he said "Alabama will come across with her part," and that Legion plans now being worked out here point to a successful accomplishment of the drive now in progress.

The representation allowed the state on the floor of the national convention, Mr. Murphy pointed out, will depend upon the number of paid up members shown to be in the state. In order to make the representation allowed Alabama creditable among other states of the Union, it is necessary, Mr. Murphy declared, that the most vigorous membership campaign must be inaugurated and carried out during the next 40 days.

"We have only until October 1 to make our membership report to the national executive committee, and this report will indicate the number of accredited delegates we may send to Minneapolis," he said. "It is most necessary, therefore, that the executive committee member in each congressional district in Alabama get busy at once to co-operate with the state office in acquiring as many paid members as possible."

Wants Big Delegation

It is believed that the convention will go on record on many questions which will be of vital importance to Alabama men and for this reason the state commander is eager to have the largest delegation possible on the floor.

"The time has come for the American Legion to do big things in a big way," Mr. Murphy declared. "We must not get to sleep on the job. We're confronted with the biggest problems of all time. The eyes of the entire world turn to the American Legion expecting us to do the things for America in peace time with as much efficiency, courage and skill as we did on the battlefield."

President Wilson, Gen. Pershing, Gen. Foch and other international figures will appear before the convention in November, and it is believed that it will be one of the biggest gatherings ever held in the United States. The delegates are apportioned one for each 1000 members in each state.

Moebe's List

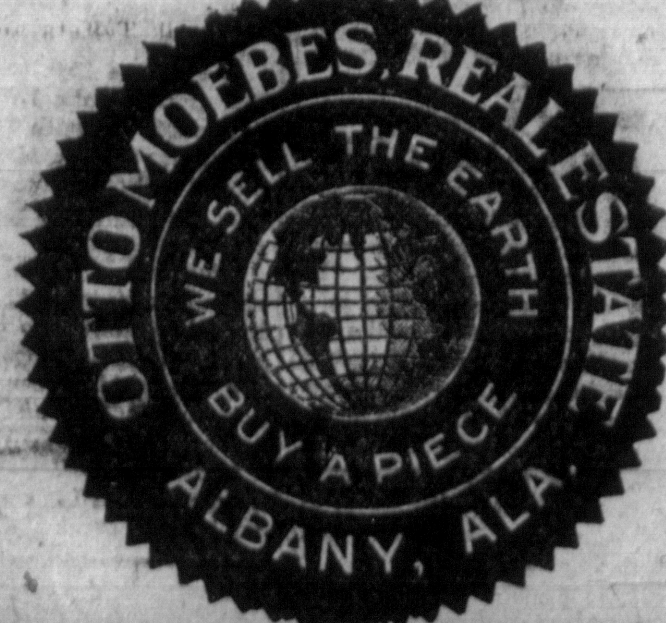

Stand still and let the ground slip from under them, and then lay their plight to "Hard Luck," is just the way of some people. We can show you men who bought land in the days gone by for $10 per acre; a few years later they bought more land for $25 per acre, and today the same men are buying the same kind of land for $100 per acre. This is the kind of man that the world is making a living for. While the other fellow is doubting, he is buying, and he is standing on the shady side of easy street, while the other fellow is talking about what he "could have done."

You can buy a great big farm, around 600 acres, and about two-thirds cleared, in the southern part of Limestone county and about one mile from the Tennessee river for $50 per acre. This is red land of the old plantation type, and will produce anything. Several tenant houses and barns; everlasting creek, and lies on public road. This farm is in the same vicinity and is the same nature soil of farms that have recently sold for $125 per acre. Opportunities such as this are becoming more scarce every day.

30,000 acres of cut-over land, 25 miles north of Montgomery, on the L. & N. railroad. Well watered, fine grazing, splendid soil and climate for pecans, vegetables, strawberries, fruit and staple crops. $6.50 per acre. Can sell in 1,000-acre tracts for $7.50 per acre. A rare opportunity to put your money in a bank that will never go broke, and take it out in a few years with two or three hundred per cent interest.

If you are interested in a farm proposition, let us show you a few nice farms within a radius of three to seven miles from Albany and Decatur, or had you rather wait until next year and pay more? This has been an off year with the farmer, and a few of the biggest farmers have found out that they have too much land and are willing to sell. Had this year been as good a crop year as last year was, farmers would have been hard to induce to turn loose of their lands at any reasonable price. Now wait 'till another good crop and see what you will have to pay for it.

We pay from $5 to $25 for options until Jan. 1st on residential property. We positively will not list property for sale without the exclusive sale rights. As a matter of good faith, we are willing to pay for this right. Then, when we have put our money into the proposition, the owner knows that we are not going to sit still.

HANDICAP IN LOSS OF EYE

Said to Depend Largely on Time of Life at Which the Accident Occurred.

What actual disability is involved in the loss of one eye? Accident insurance companies usually estimate it at 50 per cent, but Sir Arthur Pearson told the British committee on the administration of soldiers' and sailors' pensions that this was absolutely absurd, and suggested 25 per cent as a more reasonable estimate.

It depends largely upon the time of life at which the eye is lost. By binocular vision, says the Lancet, we fuse two slightly dissimilar images of an object, which are focussed upon the two retinas, and this enables us to estimate correctly the relative position or distance of objects. This power, however, is not confined to those of us who possess two good eyes. The man who has been blind in one eye from infancy possesses it in almost equal perfection with the possessor of two eyes. For many other factors unite to compensate for the absence of stereoscopic vision. These are atmospheric and shadow effects, parallax and, above all, memory of what the shape of objects really is, according to knowledge which has been acquired in early years, largely by the sense of touch.

On the other hand, if one who possesses this faculty is suddenly deprived of it he will be considerably handicapped, especially at first. A woman may find she cannot pour from a teapot into a cup without spilling the tea. A hammerman may take some time before he can hit the nail on the head with his former accuracy; indeed, whether or not he can ever attain it again is doubtful.

WASTE COUNTRY MADE RICH

Enormous Rubber Plantation in Sumatra Developed by American Industry in Ten Years.

Perhaps the most surprising thing about the enormous rubber plantation that covers nearly 100,000 acres in Sumatra, recently described by a writer in Commerce and Finance, is that less than ten years ago one could have traveled these acres without seeing a rubber tree. The land was acquired by an American company, and the rubber trees followed. Today they count up to something like 5,000,000, tended by an army of about 16,000 laborers, most of whom come from the neighboring island of Java. The land rises to a slight eminence overlooking the sea of rubber trees which stretches for miles in every direction, with here and there glimpses of the fine roads over which motor cars travel the plantation on business or carry passengers between the bungalows of the estate managers. Sixty-five miles of narrow-gauge railway run through this remarkable rubber forest, with every tree raised in response to the twentieth century commercial demand for rubber.

Newspaper Men "Struck"

Probably the first "strike" ever called at a convention of the American Federation of Labor, and against that body, was called by the newspapermen assigned to cover the sessions. During the course of the convention one of the delegates made criticism of the way in which the convention news was handled. The newspaper men immediately filed out of the hall and sent word to the convention that they had gone on strike. While certain delegates were branding the newspapermen as "bolshyeviki," others insisted that they form a committee and present their demands. The demands were formulated and presented. The convention granted them by acclamation, and the reporters were given an ovation when they filed back to their desks. So it was settled.

He Saw Very Well.

I had employed a piano tuner for several years who was blind, writes a correspondent. One day he brought another man when he came to tune the piano, asking my permission to teach him some things about piano tuning. I left them in the parlor by themselves and when they had finished, I was dressing to go out.

Knowing they were blind and rather than keep them waiting, I went in to pay the tuner in rather scant attire. I remarked to the stranger, "It is nice for you blind people that there is work like this for you to do."

"Oh, madam," he replied, "I'm not blind; in fact, I see very well."

I nearly died and fled from the room.

Looking for Cat.

Little Paul, age seven, and his aunt were playing with the cat when it ran under the buffet. Stopping down his aunt said: "I can see only his hind quarters." Paul ran to the other end of the buffet and looking under exclaimed: "Oh, I can see its head quarters."

PATROL WAGON ROUNDS UP ALDERMEN FOR MEETING

(International News Service.) BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 19.—Aldermen of this city were astonished and somewhat alarmed recently when the police "hurry up" wagon drew up before their doors and the driver inquired for them. It was not to the police station that they were brought, however, but to City Hall, where the chairman was very anxious to have the sale of a piece of property to the city ratified and took this means of getting a quorum. The meeting lasted three minutes.

There Are Several Good Reasons Why Discriminating Women Prefer THE PALMER GARNET This Season

They know that all ready-to-wear is costing a great deal more than formerly.

They know that a good many makes of garments are purely speculative values, they may obtain the service that is promised or they may not. And the same is true of their styles. There are no speculative Palmer styles, all have won their approval from the greatest artists in the industry.

And there are no speculative prices. The Palmer line of coats and suits from $35.00 and up are priced lower and mean by far the best values that any store can offer this fall. Every garment is a finished product, correct in style and of all wool—only materials that will give real service.

See our great assortments of coats and suits tonight or Monday. Get our prices—they'll please you.

SUITS AND COATS

A Rack Full at Our Price—$25.00

For the past three seasons we have featured this price suit and coat. Way back in February we made our arrangements to show these coats and suits today. It could not have been done otherwise.

Thoroughly tailored garments in all wool materials, that offer splendid service in fascinating styles at $25.00

That's why the woman wanting to pay this price comes here first, and she saves both time and money.

Dolman Coats, the last word in style—in a silvertone material. Price them anywhere, the chances are they will say $40.00. They are here at just $25.00

Suits in correct to the minute styles—full length coats, silk lined, all wool fabrics, beautifully made and trimmed. The cities' greatest ready-wear offering at $25.00

Suffered With Rheumatism, Catarrh and Stomach Trouble

"I think Number 40 For The Blood as a blood purifier has no equal. When I began to take Number 40, I was in very poor health, as I had Rheumatism, Catarrh, Stomach Trouble, Lead Poisoning, and an Itch that I had tried almost every known remedy to relieve. I have taken six bottles of 'Number 40' and am on a fast road to recovery. I owe my life to it, as I used to weigh 127 pounds and now weigh 148, my usual weight. I could write more but this should be enough to convince the most skeptical, and you are at liberty to use this letter anyway you desire." Geo. Klinker, Lima, Ohio.

The ingredients in "Number 40 For The Blood" are set down in the U. S. Dispensary and other reliable medical books as follows: "Employed in diseases of the glandular system, in blood poison, constipation, stomach and liver troubles, chronic rheumatism, catarrh, sores, ulcers, skin eruptions, mercurial and lead poisoning. Under its use nodes, tumors, scrofulous swellings that have withstood all other treatment disappear as if by magic."

Conquered Desert Sand.

The British adopted a giant "snow-shoe" to conquer the sands of the Egyptian desert, according to Maj. John Bain of the British army, who served in the near East. The scheme, which was based on the same theory that caused the Indian to adopt the snow shoe, was to use the sand itself. The army was marching to Palestine. The fine sands impeded both the infantry and horses, so that a day's march never resulted in much more than a two or three mile advance.

"Finally some inventive genius tried laying rather close-meshed chicken wire on the sands," said Major Bain. "The Tommies were thus given something that didn't yield so readily as the soft sands, and the horses got a better footing. Immediately we found that much greater progress was made, and our advances soon amounted to nine and ten miles a day."

Development of Army Searchlight.

A review of the work of the army engineer corps in the war, first issued by the war department, says that "the corps produced a new form of searchlight more powerful than any that had preceded it in any army, with which the Second field army had been partially equipped. "It weighed," the report says, "one-eighth as much as lamps of former design, cost only one-third as much, was about one-fourth as large in bulk, and threw a light 10 per cent stronger than any other portable projector in existence." Still further to perfect the searchlight, our engineers were at work on a remote control when hostilities ceased.—Scientific American.

Honey 92.1 Per Cent of Normal.

The honey crop of the United States was 92.1 per cent of normal on July 1, according to the estimates of the United States department of agriculture. Reports to the bureau of crop estimates warrant the estimate that the yield of surplus honey per colony was 25.8 pounds and that about one-half of the annual product per colony was realized by July 1. The high condition of 92.1 per cent of normal on July 1 this year compares with 63.7 in 1918 and 86.3 in 1917.

Electrical Undertakings in Japan.

There are 715 electrical undertakings in Japan, including 625 power plants, 42 electric railways, and 48 companies operating both power plants and tramways. This is an increase of 40 companies over last year. The total amount of invested capital in these enterprises is about $388,000,000, including $193,000,000 for power plants, $22,000,000 for railways, and $173,000,000 for those rendering combined service—an increase of about $8,000,000 over last year.

SCHUMANN-HEINK IN

BENEFIT CONCERT AT BIRMINGHAM

Under the auspices of the Birmingham Civic Association Schumann-Heink will give a Benefit concert at the Jefferson theatre at Birmingham, September 26 for the Downing Industrial School for girls at Brewton, Alabama. This great artist, is paying her own and her accompanist's expenses to Birmingham, the whole sum to go to the girl's school. The great diva's heart is as large as her own reputation. She is now making a tour of the larger cities. Weeks ahead of each engagement theatre capacity has been sold out, and at the performances thousands have been turned away. Getting an engagement with this great singer is one of the results of the efforts of the Alabama Federation of Woman's clubs, that are promoting this school.

BEAUTIFUL FUNCTION

AT HILLSBORO FOR MISS AGNES IRWIN

For Miss Agnes Irwin a bride of next Wednesday, Mrs. James Swift, of Hillsboro, opened her pretty home at an entertainment on Wednesday afternoon—Miscellaneous shower for this popular girl. The home was prettily decorated in ferns and white chrysanthemums, the lower floor of the home being opened for the arrival of tables at which Progressive Hearts was played. Miniature wedding bells depended from the ceiling and numbered the tables. Following the game an Acrostic Contest was the feature, using the names of the contracting parties. In this, Mrs. Edgar Landers and Miss Nell Brock tied for the prize. The honoree made top score in the game of hearts. Following the award of prizes, the bride-elect opened her packages, making a pretty picture in a costume of tan georgette with touches of tan velvet, topped by a hat of blue pan velvet and trimmed with rich blue ostrich plumes. The wedding of Miss Irwin and Mr. Claud Vandiver, of Atlanta, will be quite an event of the early fall. Those attending the shower from Decatur were Mesdames Sam Irwin, S. D. Brock, W. H. Watson and Miss Nell Brock.

ALEXANDER-MOORE.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chapman Workman of Columbia, South Carolina, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian Earle Alexander, to Mr. Donald LeRoy Moore of Dillon South Carolina, the wedding to take place October the sixteenth.

This announcement will be a pleasant surprise to the many friends of Miss Alexander, since she counts her friends by her acquaintances.

CANAL STREET ROOK CLUB

Mrs. Braden Fleming was hostess Friday afternoon to the Canal Street club. The club prize was won by Mrs. R. E. Hewlett. The guest list included Mesdames W. N. Hall, M. H. Barnett, Minnie Draper, Mrs. W. N. Hall was awarded the guest prize. Afterward lovely ices were served.

DELIGHTFUL DANCE

AT COLONIAL CLUB

The dance given last evening at the Colonial club was one of the most delightful of the year. The attendance was large and included a number of men from surrounding cities. Music was furnished by the Campbell jazz orchestra, of Chattanooga, Tenn., which made a pleasing impression on the occasion of its first visit here. The club rooms were prettily decorated with cut flowers in vases. Dancing continued until 2 o'clock.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Hartselle, Ala., Sept. 20. (Special)—The following announcement will be of interest to a wide circle of friends at Hartselle, Decatur and Athens where the bride-to-be has visited frequently: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Griffin announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lucile to Mr. Roscoe L. Rost of Macomb, Ill., the wedding to be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Wednesday, October 22.

Mrs. B. M. Bloodworth and Miss Clutie Bloodworth have returned from Mobile, Ala.

Misses Josephine Senter of Columbus, Miss., Judith Thigpin of Uchee, Ala., and Bessie Brindley of Hartselle are with Dr. and Mrs. McGlawn for the winter.

Daphne Graves and Madolyn Troup went to Athens Friday afternoon.

Lucile Patterson and Marie McGlawn have matriculated at the Woman's College at Montgomery, Alabama. The girls are delighted with their environment.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carter, of Montgomery, are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. R. T. Sheppard is considerably improved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stewart and daughters left today for a tour of the larger northern and eastern cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt of Hotel Lyons were hostesses at a midnight supper last evening, in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Cortner, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Elliott and Miss Mary Williams. Appointments were perfect. The supper followed the dance at the Colonial building.

Mrs. E. F. Jackson who is ill at the Benevolent Hospital, is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bell have returned from Nashville, where they attended the Tennessee state fair.

AGAINST WAGES FOR WIVES

Gathering of Women Ridicule the Idea, Labeling It as "Commercializing the Home."

Wages for wives were turned down by an audience largely of women here the other night after a debate on whether husbands should be required to pay such wages, says the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

One speaker drew a dismal picture of the future of romance with wives working for wages.

"Imagine a scene like this," he said: "Honey, do you love me?" "Of course I love you."

"Then will you marry me?" "Well, maybe. How much do you pay?"

"Suppose the wives were to join the soviet of waiters-up, and charge triple wages for waiting up nights for husbands," he said.

"Imagine a wife going into society and being labeled a $15-a-week wife. A woman can take a last-year hat and make it look like new. But when she signed a contract for $15 a week there would be no hiding it from the neighbors."

Another speaker pleaded that "woman shall not be brought down from her pedestal as a queen and made a mere employee of man." In depicting the future of romance under the wage system he said the marriage ceremony would have to be revised to read:

"With this ring I hire thee, and will pay thee $15 a week by the aid of the world, the flesh and the devil."

Notices like the following he predicted would be published:

"Married—John Brown and Mary Smith, by Rev. Russell H. Conwell. They will live in Logan and the wife's wages will be $15 a week."

Scenes like the following in court were forecast:

"Judge, he hired me for $20 a week and he is now two weeks overdue in my pay. I'm going to get a new boss."

LOOKING AHEAD A FEW YEARS
Remarks That Will Be Merely Ordinary When the Blimp Has Been Finally Perfected.

Augustus Tolliver, the soap king, strode wrathfully out of his stateroom aboard the blimp and seized the arm of the porter.

"Idiot!" he roared, "why didn't you give me a call this morning? I told you I had to be in London for a directors' meeting at 9 a. m. sharp, and now London is Lord knows how many thousands of miles in our rear."

"Ah pounded on yo' door, boss, but yo' refuses to waken," replied the porter.

The soap king pulled out a watch. "Eleven-thirty," he grunted disgustedly. "Where are we now?"

"Jest passed over St. Louis, boss; we'll be back in N'Yawk at 12:05."

"Oh! well," said Tolliver, "I can attend that 12:30 meeting of the soap powder people and catch the 1:30 blimp for London."

Rat Skins for Leather.
The suggestion has been made that the rat problem might be best solved by making use of the skins of the rodents for the purpose of leather.

Somebody with the gift of guessing computes that there are 10,000,000 in this country, and the damage they do would feed a good-sized army. It would take at least 5,000 skins a day to supply a small modern tannery.

Nobody wants the rats, they belong to anybody that can catch them. That is the problem—to catch them, and then deliver the goods. There is not enough leather to go around.

Fish skins are susceptible of tanning, and there are rat skins which make good leather, large enough for many purposes.

A Voice From Sioux City, Iowa, says

PE-RU-NA

Worth Its Weight in Gold

You cannot mistake the words of Mr. W. W. Northrup, of 908 Fourth Street, Sioux City, Iowa. He is enthusiastic about his present health and the merits of PE-RU-NA and wants everyone to know it. Here is a recent letter from him:

"PE-RU-NA is worth its weight in gold and then some. I used to think it only a woman's remedy but have changed my mind. I had a cough, especially in the morning. After using half a bottle of PE-RU-NA was much better. I would cough up chunks of phlegm and mucus, my eyes itched and bothered me. Judging from the symptoms given in your almanac it was catarrh. My stomach is in much better condition since using your medicine."

"Use this testimonial, if you wish. Don't hesitate to advertise the merits of PE-RU-NA."
(Signed) W. W. NORTHROP.

There are thousands just like Mr. Northrup, skeptical at first but convinced by a trial of PE-RU-NA.

DON'T BE AN UNBELIEVER.

If your trouble is of a catarrhal nature, try PE-RU-NA, then tell your friends. It is fine after an attack of grip or Spanish Flu.

COLLINS WILL PLAY IN SIXTH WORLD'S SERIES THIS SEASON

In Addition to Being Greatest Player of All Time at Second, He Tops List of World Series Vets

By JACK VEIOCK,
International News Sports Editor.
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Edward Trowbridge Collins stands today on the threshold of his sixth world's series.

The flashy little White Sox second sacker, in addition to enjoying the distinction of being classed as the greatest player of all time in his position, also tops the list with Jack Barry as a veteran world's series performer.

For fourteen years this phenomenal player has been a consistent star in the major leagues. For at least ten of the fourteen years he has been the bell cow of all second basemen, and during those ten years, including the season of 1919, he has amassed a record for brilliancy and consistency that will probably never be equalled.

Collins has already made a young fortune out of world's series alone. He has cut the melon in the big October classic five times, starting with the season of 1910, when he starred as a member of Connie Mack's famous Athletics.

In 1911, 1912 and 1914 Collins cavorted in the world's series, wearing an Athletic uniform, and when the White Sox annexed the American League pennant and followed by winning the world's title from the Giants in 1917, Eddie was in on the winner's end of the purse.

Out of the five world's series in which he has taken part he has been a member of the winners of the world's championship four times. In the Fall of 1914 he split the losers' end of the loot when the Braves crushed the Mackmen in four straight games.

CLEVER WIFE OUTWITS
"VAMP" HOMEBREAKER
AT THE MASONIC TODAY

The cleverness of a young wife, who realized that the only way to make a man happy is to give him his own way, and give him the things he wants only for him to discover that he doesn't want them at all, is the basic motif of the plot of "Happiness is a la Mode," Constance Talmadge's latest Select Picture, which can be seen today at the Masonic theatre. In this, as in all her other Select Pictures, Miss Talmadge is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

Instead of raising a tempest when she hears that her husband is beginning to tire of her and is falling in love with another woman, she lets him frame up divorce evidence. She is told by the court that the final decree will be granted her in three months.

Just as soon as he is separated from his wife, friend husband begins to realize what he is missing, and all the old love, which had been temporarily forgotten, returns. He attempts to persuade her to call off the separation but she refuses.

The other woman learns of the attentions Dick is paying to his wife and she becomes horribly jealous, calling his conduct disgraceful. But Dick now realizes his mistake and the divorce is never consummated.

SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

It has often been said that there is nothing new under the sun but the amusement lovers of the Twin Cities will be given an opportunity of witnessing something really new at the Masonic theatre on Monday and Tuesday night next.

Mr. Cagle, the manager has booked for these two nights Henri Rostand, the veteran man of mystery. Mr. Rostand as is well known is a magician of much note, and this season is offering to the public the most unique program of mystic experiments which for novel surprises and clean entertainment, is not surpassed by any other member of the magical profession.

During the current engagement Mr.

World's series playing has netted Collins about $15,000, and with the series against the Cincinnati Reds to come he will add to his grand total. A player of sound habits, the White Sox star ranks today as one of the wealthiest players in the game.

Collins is by no means a youngster. On the second day of last May he celebrated his thirty-second birthday, having been born at Milleton, N. Y., in 1887. But he is showing no sign of failing. Over a stretch of 154 or 140 games, as the case may be, he is a wonderful performer, day in and day out. But put him in a world's series and you have chain lightning running rampant. His world's series records show that his fielding, hitting, base-running and thinking in the cash classics are almost uncanny. He is one of the greatest money players that ever lived.

No player in the history of modern world's series has a record as brilliant as Collins. Many of the stars of former series amassed batting averages better than .300. A few hit .400 or over, but only once. Collins has hit as low as .214, his mark against the pitching of the Boston Braves' lingers in 1914, but he has hit better than .400 on three different occasions.

There is but one player who has split more world's series pots than Collins. He is Jack Barry, who played in four series with the Athletics and one with the Red Sox in 1915. Barry was injured and kept out of the series with Brooklyn in 1916, but shared in the purse. Collins will equal Barry's record in the matter of splitting purses this Fall.

Here is Collins' world's series record complete:

Rostand will present his latest and greatest achievement, the Mohatra Fire Test.

He is the originator of this experiment and the remarkable novelty was only accomplished after many years of research and experimentation. Mr. Rostand challenges the profession and the laity to reproduce this Fire act as it has never been performed by any other living person.

A rare treat is in store for all who attend the opening performance on Monday night and the management feels sure that this will prove to be an evening long to be remembered in the annals of entertainment.

In addition to the Rostand program, the Masonic will show 5 reels of feature pictures.

AMUSING STUNT OF STONE IN "THE GOAT"—AT DELITE

Falls Among Bathing Girls and Pursues Simian—Monday.

One of the amusing stunts in "The Goat," the Arcraft picture in which Fred Stone makes his first stellar appearance at the Delite theatre next Monday shows where he, as Chuck McCarthy, a young iron worker, crashes through a boxed set where some bathing girls are working and scares the pet monkey of Jijou Lamour, leading woman, so that it escapes from her arms.

Chuck pursues the monkey when it climbs out on some girders and he reaches it by a curious stunt of walking upside down on some loops of rope. Just as he reaches the monkey he slips and falls into a large tank of water where the bathing girls are disporting. He comes up gasping with friend monk safely in his arms and swims to shore with the leading lady's pet, where she thanks him effusively.

The picture was directed by Donald Crisp and some admirable photography was contributed by Henry Kotani.

If you are a mummy you have an alibi, you have been dead ten thousand years. If not, see Rostand at the Masonic Monday night. 20-1t

HULLY GEE, KIDS! CIRCUS IS COMING

Listen, My Children, and You Shall Hear—Walter L. Main Shows Here October 1.

The advance man was here today and this is what he says:

One of the pleasant things for a newspaper is the announcement of a first class circus coming and this we have the pleasure of doing, for the advertising car of the Walter L. Main Show was in the Twin Cities today, and the small army of men in white overalls and jumpers pasted every dead wall and billboard and available barn in and about Albany-Decatur announcing that October 1, will be the day that the wild animals, petite ladies, high spirited horses, wonderful trained elephants, athletic men, and goodness knows what. The kiddies are thrilled with joy and the grown-ups gaze at the pictures and remember the happiest moments of their happy childhood. We will publish further details later, and all we care to say now is for the "kiddies" to save their pennies and for the "grown ups" to arrange to go to the show. Be a child again and enjoy the day from the arrival of the first gaudy train to the loading of the last horse at night for circuses do not come every day and a good one like this is not to be missed. The big Walter L. Main Show will be here October 1.

ALL PLUGGED UP!

Constipated; bilious; dizzy; headaches; nervous; irritable; "feeling bad all over." Whole system congested. "All plugged up."

DR. THACHER'S LIVER AND BLOOD SYRUP

is what you need. It's a purely vegetable tonic and blood purifier. Mildly laxative or thoroughly cathartic according to the dose. It wakes up a lazy LIVER and keeps it "on the job." It induces healthy action of the KIDNEYS. It puts the POWERS in good condition and keeps them that way. YOU need something of this kind—and every member of the family, from the children up, does too. Get it at your drug store.

"For two years I suffered with some kind of stomach trouble and indigestion. I tried several remedies, but could get no relief until I tried your DR. THACHER'S LIVER AND BLOOD SYRUP. Two bottles cured me. I have no trouble with my stomach now. I can eat anything I desire without fear."—Miss Fannie Johnson—Tenn.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadowville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before."

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it. NC-128

Saving Money Depends Upon Spending It Right The Worst Miser

The worst miser you have ever known could beat you to death saving money, but gets no benefit out of it. Real saving means spending in such manner that your earnings go a little farther than buying what you need to maintain yourself and family. This requires some thought and investigation.

A THOUGHT FOR USE ON SABBATH AND EVERY OTHER DAY

A Mr. Hall, who was at Montgomery recently to further the passage of laws considered favorable to labor, said, just in passing: "I do not want to be referred to or considered a 'labor leader.' You know that people who can be merely 'led' are very apt to retrace their steps when some other 'leader' wishes to lead them in an opposite direction. At no time has 'leadership' been successful. Moses, who is given credit for being the greatest of leaders, had his Nephews in his own brother Aaron, who, when Moses' back was turned, seeing about the ten commandments, 're-led' the Israelites backward into idol worship. Later, when Israel demanded a leader in the person of King Saul and their wish was granted, finally the whole business collapsed and leader Saul died a lonely suicide on a lost battle field. Alexander, called the great, lost his leadership and himself, dying in a drunken brawl after weeping that there were no more worlds to conquer! It is familiar to all how, according to Shakespeare, the leadership of Brutus, who had slain Caesar, was quickly taken over by Mark Anthony, by the use of one demagogical speech. Cardinal Woolsey, who had led the proud court of Henry the VII, lamented near the time of his death the course of folly he had pursued. He said that he was like little silly boys that 'float on bladders' only to be engulfed in a great wave of oblivion. Even our own George Washington, a peerless leader, came near being deserted and discredited during the dark days of the Revolution."

Mr. Hall concluded by saying that the only constructive work done by men for other men was in teaching the truth to them, in large generous quantities. Though this was described as a thankless task, it was pointed out as an essential and commanding one. In speaking of the kind of teaching needed now for all great and strong classes or organizations, Mr. Hall declared that the stronger an organization is, the greater danger there is of its strength foolishly used, destroying the organization.

Had he thought or wished to, this same speaker might have told of the enduring success that has come to the teachers of our race, albeit much of such success has become apparent long after the voice of the teacher was hushed in death. Even great leaders like Moses; his eternal fame rests on the things Moses, the law-giver, taught to the human race. Had leader Saul been a teacher of wisdom, and had he desired wisdom above everything, as did King Solomon, Saul's fame would be secure throughout the ages. The law-makers and teachers of the Greeks were greater than Alexander, even though a power-loving world has bestowed the cognomen, "Great," upon a man of selfish powers of leadership and who died drunk. Had Brutus been a teacher instead of an "agitator," he might not have lost his power to smooth-tongued Anthony. Woolsey said, in almost so many words, that if he had served God and taught His word, God would not have left him helpless in his old age. It was because George Washington could teach his soldiers frugality and endurance by his own example, and because he could teach them how to pray by his example is why Washington survived Valley Forge, not because, primarily, he was able to lead a victorious band against the Hessians at Trenton! It is significant that the Savior of the world was never and is never called a "leader." On the other hand, He was and is called the "Great Teacher." A word to the wise: Seeking leadership is almost always identical with seeking power! Have none of it if you wish to be and do your best! But do seek to be able to teach the truth, and then have the courage to teach it. "In season and out of season," know to have a reason for the faith that is in you, and then proclaim that reason and that faith though the heavens fall and the earth melt away! —J. E. Blair.

CIVIC TREASON (New York World.)

When President Wilson declares that "a strike of the policemen of a great city, leaving that city at the mercy of an army of thugs, is a crime against civilization," he states the exact truth.

When Gov. Coolidge at Massachusetts declares that the Boston policemen who have quit their posts and left the city at the mercy of its criminal elements are not strikers but deserters, he states the exact truth. This is an issue itself that must be fought out, cost what it may, unless government is to abdicate its sovereignty and make itself the mere tool of an element in the community that is strong enough and daring enough to intimidate and coerce it.

The Boston police did not strike against the Commissioner. They did not strike against the Mayor. They did not strike against the Governor of the State. They struck against the community itself. They struck against the Government of which they were a part and which they had taken a solemn oath to support. Circumstances make this a form of civic treason, no more to be condoned than a mutiny of soldiers who had decided that they ought to have more pay and ought also to have the right to join a union in order to bring the power of organization to bear against the Government.

The authorities of Boston and of Massachusetts cannot be too highly commended for the courageous manner in which they have faced this issue. Their refusal to surrender to the police has brought about bloodshed, enormous property losses and a harvest-time for the criminal elements, all of which is greatly to be deplored but all of which must be accepted as part of the imperative processes of re-establishing public authority and maintaining its sovereignty.

If public employees owe no public obligations, if they owe no regard to the oath they have taken, if they are free to desert and to abandon the community to its fate, then free institutions are a failure and society is driven back to first principles under which every man is his own policeman, his own court and his interpreter of such laws as he chooses to recognize.

Boston is performing a service for the whole country in meeting this question without flinching. Either the American people have government or they have no government. If they have government, the agencies of that government cannot be permitted to strike against the public. If they have no government, the sooner they find it out the better.

So far as any grievances that the Boston police may have had, they become trifling and incidental in comparison with the grievances that they have wantonly created and the challenge that they have issued to the stability of society.

HERE'S SOMETHING NEW IN POLITICAL CAMPAIGNING

(International News Service.)
STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, Sept. 19.—Listen!

Here's something new in politics. A candidate for a political office here did this:

Buying as many packages of breakfast food as there were voters in his ward, he put his card in each one. Then the packages were distributed, door to door.

"He figured that when the family ate the corn flakes they would feel kindly toward him at least," is the way a friend explained it.
